CIA CONSULTANT AND FACULTY ADVISOR

Dear Doris and Marie,

Time at the War College is running out, so I'm beginning to unload my safe. That means that you will probably be getting a large batch of miscellaneous junk to be forwarded to various people in the Agency and the first batch is enclosed.

It includes a letter from General Bennett to the heads of the various senior and military colleges. As you can guess from the previous letter, DIA is trying to fill the gap which we left when we pulled out. At least as far as the Naval War College is concerned, I understand that the answer has been "No Thanks."

STATINTL I am also sending along a letter to Admiral Semmes, which I wrote about [REDACTED] and a commendation which the Admiral subsequently had written for the physician who treated Hugh and his family.

STATINTL The third item is [REDACTED] thesis which he has marked for posterity--who ever that may be.

Last but by no means least if the text of the book. As you remember, I asked and got permission to write it 2½ years ago. Please put it into the proper channels for clearance, with a request that it be handled as expeditiously as possible, since we have a publisher who is nipping at our heels. The passages in the book which are marked off in blue ink were written by me alone. The remainder of the book was a joint effort by Colonel Long and myself. He did most of the remaining writing and I then rewrote and edited.

There's not much else new to report for the moment. However, there will probably be several more packages of this sort. One of them will include an end of tour report with a copy for Hugh Cunningham.

Love,

Neil
